UNIQUE DESIGN

THREE DESIGN ADVANTAGES

SEVEN ZONES FOR COMFORTABLE COOKING

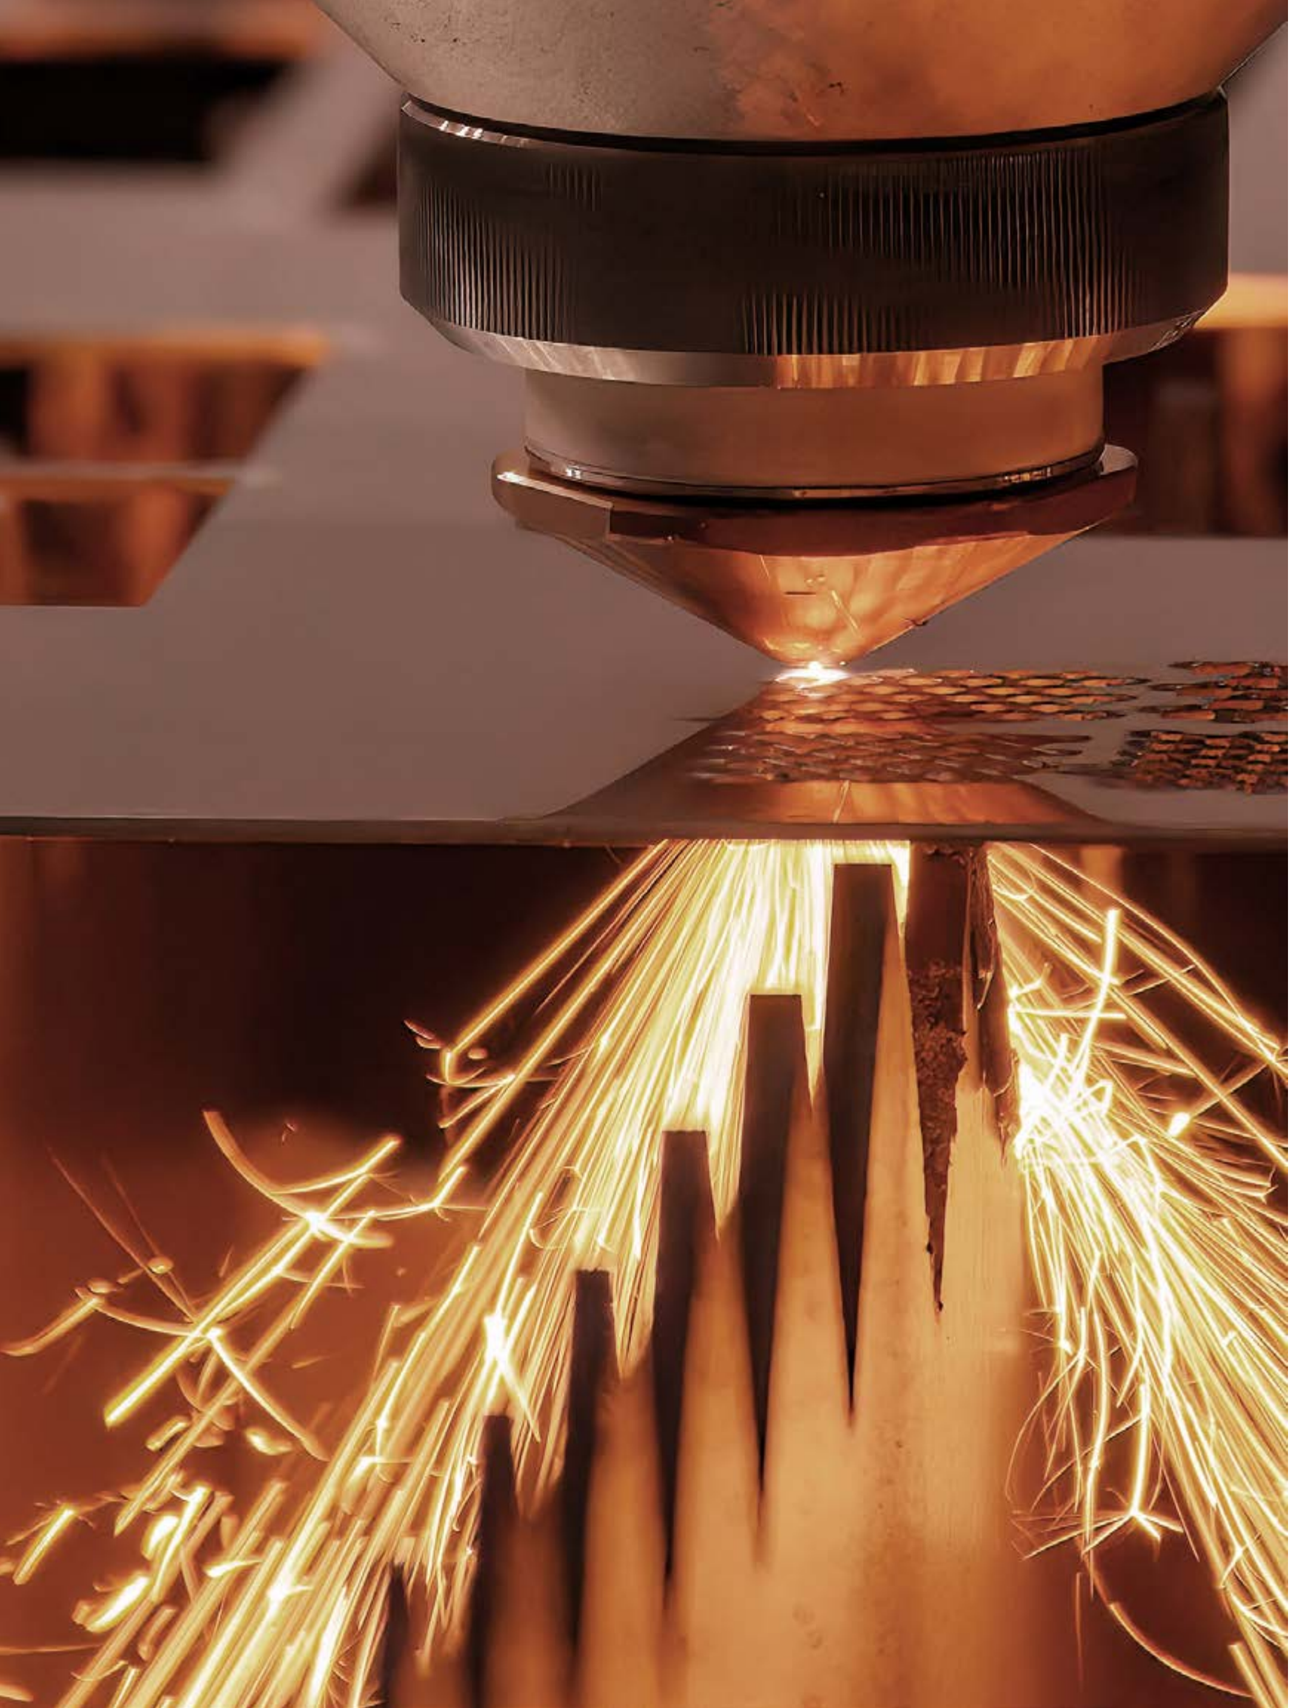
A practical kitchen follows a triangular workflow. Recommended work-zone widths are: refrigeration, 700 mm; landing, 400-600 mm; washing, 700-900 mm; preparation, 500-700 mm; cooking, 800-900 mm; serving, 400-600 mm; and breakfast, 1,000-1,300 mm. Our design team plans each zone for a smooth, comfortable flow.

SIX HUMAN-CENTRED STORAGE SOLUTIONS

Designed around everyday kitchen use, the storage system covers six needs: pantry storage, cleaning supplies, smart storage, condiments, tableware and drinkware. A considered layout keeps essentials organised, easy to store and quick to reach.

THREE ERGONOMIC DESIGN STANDARDS

Kitchen heights can be tailored to the user. Suggested base-cabinet heights: Asia, 790 mm (user height 1,550-1,700 mm); general range, 790-830 mm (1,700-1,800 mm); Europe and North America, 830-860 mm (1,800-2,000 mm). A made-to-measure kitchen is the best fit for lasting comfort.



PRODUCT ADVANTAGES

THREE CORE MANUFACTURING PROCESSES

COUNTERTOP TECHNOLOGY

Solid stainless-steel worktops are available in 6 mm and 10 mm thicknesses, with a sandblasted, scratch-resistant surface. The rear upstand is removable and can be made from a solid panel of matching thickness or folded from a sandblasted sheet. For uneven walls, the folded-sheet option is recommended.

Thin-sheet worktops use a 1.2 mm stainless-steel surface with a plastic-steel or aluminium-honeycomb core. Finishes include standard and scratch-resistant treatments. Front upstands can be pressed, folded or formed at a right angle. Underside levelling and edge returns can be specified; refer to the quotation for details. The rear upstand is integrated, and the worktop is routed as required.

CABINET CONSTRUCTION

Options include single- or double-layer welded cabinets, single- or double-layer knock-down construction, and double-layer three-in-one construction. Materials and finishes include raindrop-texture steel, fingerprint-resistant brushed steel, coloured film-coated steel, colour-coated steel and integrated baked-paint finishes. Cabinet interiors use aluminium honeycomb with PVC filling. Hinge and pull-out basket fittings can be pre-drilled or supplied without pre-drilled holes.

DOOR PANEL TECHNOLOGY

Painted doors use an automotive-grade finish with a surface hardness of 8H. Choose matte, high-gloss or soft-touch surfaces. Panels are routed and folded with a closed edge, raindrop-texture steel on the reverse, and aluminium-honeycomb/PVC filling. Styles include flat, 45-degree bevel, slim bevel, European profile and inlaid metal-strip designs.

Film-coated and colour-sprayed doors use imported PVC heat-transfer film with a scratch-resistant, odour-free surface. The front steel sheet is 0.8 mm thick; the reverse has a raindrop texture. Panels are grooved and filled with aluminium honeycomb and PVC. Available styles include flat, 45-degree bevel, slim bevel, European profile and inlaid metal-strip designs.

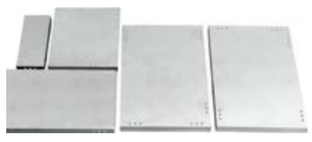
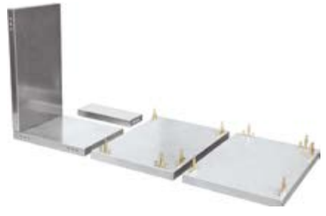
CABINET CONSTRUCTION OPTIONS

Choose from single-layer welded or knock-down construction, double-layer welded or knock-down construction, and double-layer 3-in-1 or 2-in-1 systems. A range of options is available, from practical everyday solutions to premium, high-capacity designs.

DOUBLE-LAYER 3-IN-1 CABINET





DOUBLE-LAYER 2-IN-1 CABINET

SINGLE-LAYER WELDED CABINET

Internal welding keeps weld points sealed inside the cabinet for a clean, rust-resistant finish. Triple-folded panels with vertical supports create safe, smooth edges and a stable structure.

DOUBLE-LAYER WELDED CABINET

An upgrade to single-layer welding. Two folded panels interlock tightly, creating a stable, safe and refined cabinet body with a substantial finish.

SINGLE-LAYER 2-IN-1 CABINET

No spot welding is required. Concealed internal connectors allow the flat-pack cabinet to be transported and assembled on site, helping reduce delivery and lifting costs while avoiding transit damage. Triple-folded panels and vertical supports provide smooth, sturdy edges.
